Aastha Bhatia

Expressing females through sculptures is the subject of sculptor, Aastha Bhatia. The artist sees herself as an untold expression of females, which she tries to express through her works. To which she later added flowers from nature with the figures of females, as she believes that the nature and character of flowers is same as females like their gracefulness, delicateness, sensitivity, etc. She did her 4yrs Bachelors and 2yrs Master’s in Fine Arts – Sculpture from Government College of Arts, Chandigarh and explored different sculpting media like wood, stone, metal, clay, wax, pop, fibre glass, etc. Currently Aastha is working as an Art Coordinator in RoundGlass, Mohali, Punjab, India.

Ajit Bhatta

Ajit Bhatta serves as a SDG Coordinator at SDSN Youth. He is currently doing his Masters in Development Studies at Kathmandu University, Nepal. Having work experience of several years in Local and Regional Development field including the Sustainable Development planning, he has contributed in many of the programs, campaign and activism in local and global level. He launched Move Humanity Event in Nepal on Dec, 2018, which was the first global campaign on bridging SDG financing gap. He is a Development practitioner who is never weary of putting all of his effort for the sustainable changes.

Alejandra Acosta

Alejandra is a social worker and entrepreneur based in Madrid. She is the Founder and president of Break The Silence, a non profit that creates prevention against human trafficking, makes political advocacy to create laws against exploitation and collaborates with companies to create local solutions against slavery. She is a TEDx speaker, the founder of the UN initiative for gender equality (HeForShe) in Madrid city and is a local ambassador of the United Nations Foundation for their international project +SocialGood, focused in advancing and spreading the word about the Sustainable Development Goals in Spain.

Alex Clark

Alex Clark is a PhD student in Geography and the Environment at Oxford University. Previously Analyst at the Climate Policy Initiative, covering topics including blended finance, low-carbon transport and climate finance flow tracking. He is Senior Advisor (Youth Financing) at SDSN Youth, previously Project Leader for Networks, then Operations. He has been with SDSN Youth since its establishment in 2015. Alex is a former Henry Fellow at Harvard University and holds an MSc (Global Governance and Diplomacy) from Oxford University, and a BA (Hons) in Philosophy, Politics and Economics from Warwick University. Alex represented Young European Leaders at COP21/COP22.
Alexandria Villaseñor
Alexandria started protesting for the climate in the context of the “School Strike 4 Climate”. She has become a leader of student strikes for the climate in the United States and has also launched her own youth-led nonprofit, Earthuprising.org.

Amanda Bennett
Amanda works at the Earth Charter International Secretariat and the Earth Charter Center for Education for Sustainable Development at UPEACE as the project assistant. Currently, she facilitates ECI’s Leadership, Sustainability, and Ethics Online Youth Training Programme, which is offered in English and Spanish every year, and coordinates the Earth Charter Young Leaders Network. She was born in Guanacaste, Costa Rica, and grew up in South Carolina, United States. She earned a Bachelor of Arts in Experimental Psychology at the University of South Carolina, and a Master in Public Policy at the University of Maryland.

Amy Au
SDSN Youth Project Lead

Ana Ynestrillas
Ana is the Project Lead of the Local Pathways Fellowship at SDSN Youth. Her background combines experience from the public, private and non-profit sectors at the intersection of urban tech and sustainable cities. Ana previously ran operations at Smart Cities New York where she delivered events that convened global thought leaders to share effective strategies to deploy smart cities technologies. Before this, she gained experience in city infrastructure at the NYC Department of Environmental Protection. She’s passionate about innovation ecosystems and therefore serves as a Program Associate to the Urban Tech Hub connecting innovators with government, academia, business, and community.

Ana Karen Hevia
SDSN Youth Network Coordinator
Angela Scicchitano
Angela is the National Coordinator of MSOI - the United Nations Youth Association of Italy. She has been active on youth engagement and communicating UN values for more than five years now, volunteering for the UN Youth Association of Italy first as Board member and Secretary/Head of the Board of the association's local chapter based in Naples and then as UNYA Italy's National Coordinator for two terms (2016/2017-2017/2018). She is currently pursuing a Master in International Cooperation and Development at "La Sapienza" University of Rome, while she has already earned a bachelor degree in Political Science and International Relations at the "Federico II" University in Naples. Moreover, she also holds a master's course diploma in "International Relations and Protection of Human Rights" from SIOI.

Anthony Bucci III
Anthony is the coordinator of 2030 Today, an upcoming webseries borne out of the 2017 Vatican Youth Symposium focused on Sustainable Development Goals action. Anthony formerly led SDG policy for the United States, is a member of the International Youth Foundation’s Cohort 2030, and serves on multiple boards.

Arrey Obenson
Arrey serves as JCI Secretary General, leading the implementation of the organization’s strategy and supervising a team to accomplish the mission of the organization across the world. Arrey actively engages all sectors of society to create opportunities that empower young people to create positive change in their communities. As a firm believer that empowered young people can find solutions to the world’s biggest challenges, he utilizes forward-thinking concepts like the JCI Active Citizen Framework to inspire the realization of the JCI Mission. Arrey is an engaging speaker who has spoken to audiences of varying sizes in nearly 100 countries.

Aude-Line Dulière
Aude-Line Dulière is an architect and academic. She is the recipient of the 2018 Harvard Wheelwright Prize and currently teaches at the Architectural Association in London. Her current research examines material flows, labour forms and supply systems across the movie and building industries. She collaborates with Rotor in Brussels, a cooperative design practice that facilitates the reuse of building materials through ‘deconstruction’ projects, policy proposals and the development of methods and tools. Aude-Line holds a Master of Architecture degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Design.
Avianka Aventurin
Avianka Aventurin-Denloye is passionate about people and youth in particular. She was born in the Netherlands to parents of Carribbean heritage. Avianka has led and been involved in various projects and initiatives that promote success for the youth of Amsterdam where she currently resides. Avianka was elected as the first Youth Mayor of Amsterdam this year and her main goals are to bridge the gap between the Government and the youth of Amsterdam, being a voice for positive change in the city.

Ben Christensen
Ben Christensen is on a mission to galvanize support to achieve a reality where all 8 billion people have access to quality education as a human right, including the food and water and gender equality rights necessary to enable this in our lifetimes by 2030. A former Circus Artist, Film/Stage Actor, and Entrepreneur, He applies his creative energy in his current role as a Global Innovation Manager and UN Partnerships Director at SAP Next-Gen: A Global Goals driven innovation community.

Beth Eden
Beth is the National Youth Network Coordinator for SDSN Canada, advancing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) across research institutions, colleges, and universities in Canada. She founded an alliance of university clubs and services at the University of Waterloo to enhance collaboration for sustainability issues in early 2019. She has worked on conferences and initiatives alongside governments and other organizations in Canada and internationally related to youth engagement and the SDGs. Her other work involves research related to climate change, natural disasters, and communications. She is currently studying Environment and Business at the University Waterloo.

Carolina Ramírez Méndez
SDSN Youth Network Coordinator, Brazil

Chief Nat Nsarko
Chief Nathaniel; fellow of the American Academy of Project Management, holds MCH, BFA, DIP-TEC and is Executive Director for MPA serving as liaison between the presidency, policy makers, implementing partners and MPA Global. He has Masters’ degree in Community Health with over 16 years of practical field experience in community health mobilization and sustainable project concept designing. He worked extensively under five successive health Ministers contributing greatly to the deployment of over thirty-one thousand Health Promotion Assistants, and served as a national resource person for Ghana’s Adolescent Health Development Program and National roll-out of Ghana’s Regenerative Health and Nutrition Program.

Chris Castro
Director of Sustainability for the City of Orlando, Florida

Clayton Ferrara
Clayton is a biologist and Naturalist.

Daniele De Palma
Daniele, 17 years old, is the youngest out of the 40 Italian ONE Youth Ambassadors. Despite his young age, he's distinguished himself for his passion and dedication. In the past months, he met with Members of the European Parliament to call them to show leadership in the fight against extreme poverty, rose awareness at his school through giving presentations of the fights that ONE carries on, and his interviews appeared on some of the biggest newspapers of the South of Italy. Daniele's strong faith makes him passionate about justice. He's active through his local church where he helps out with the organisation of events and summer camps.

Dario Piselli
Dario is a Ph.D. candidate in International Law at the Graduate Institute of Geneva and a researcher at its Centre for International Environmental Studies. A graduate of LSE and the University of Siena, his main areas of expertise include international environmental law, global health and social-ecological resilience. Dario has collaborated with the SDSN since 2012, first as a Project Member of SDSN Mediterranean and most recently as the Project Leader for the Youth Solutions Program of SDSN Youth. Since July 2017, he is the co-recipient of an Erasmus+ Grant for a Jean Monnet Module on EU Law and Sustainable Development.

Davide Gomiero
Davide graduated from University of Exeter with a Bachelor of Science with Honours in Economics and Human Geography.

Deus Cristal Sanchez Juarez
Works at Hands in 4 Youth
DJ Forza
DJ Forza is the Director of Partnerships and Collaboration for the World YMCA, reaching 58 million people in 120 countries. DJ's previous roles include Head of Partnerships and Development at Geneva Call, a Swiss NGO focused on protecting civilians and cultural heritage in armed conflict, Innovative Financing & Private Sector Partnerships at Gavi, The Vaccine Alliance, and Strategic Communications at DNDi (Drugs for Neglected Diseases initiative). Originally from Seattle, DJ holds an MBA from the Foster School of Business at the University of Washington, and is a Kiva Fellow.

Djaffar Shalchi
Djaffar is originally from Tehran, Iran, where he was born in 1961. He has lived in Copenhagen, Denmark since 1970. Djaffar obtained a bachelor’s degree in constructional engineering in 1988. In 1999 he decided that he was ready to become self-employed. Djaffar founded his own construction company, which flourished rapidly and led to great financial success. Djaffar is an accomplished entrepreneur in the property development business and at the forefront of philanthropic activities focusing on ending extreme poverty. After successfully building up many property companies, Djaffar decided to dedicate the majority of his time and fortune to eradicate extreme poverty.

Elie Kallab
Elie is a graduate student at the Università Degli Studi di Pisa majoring in Internet Ecosystem: Governance and International Law. He worked in the International Education and Immigration field and has submitted policy papers to Australian Government departments. Elie has co-authored a chapter on Lebanese Environmental Policies in the book - Harness It: Renewable Energy Technologies and Project Development Models Transforming the Grid which was endorsed by Prof. Jeffrey Sachs. He is currently working towards publishing his second book on Environmental Diplomacy. He has assisted various ministries in organizing large-scale conferences. Elie is a former speaker at the Harvard Project for Asian and International Relations. Currently, Elie represents the SDSN Youth's Local Pathways Program as a fellow.

Flavio Coppola
As Program Manager for Urban Planning at C40, Flavio provides technical inputs into C40’s Climate Action Planning process, supports the delivery of the Reinventing Cities competition, and manages the Land Use Planning Network. Through the Network, Flavio coordinates a group of senior urban planners exchanging best practices in sustainable urban planning. In previous capacities, he has worked for local governments, non-profits, and consulting firms in San Francisco, Rio de Janeiro, London, and Paris, on projects pertaining to sustainable policy and transportation, urban planning, and economic development. Flavio is a graduate of Sciences Po Paris and the London School of Economics.
Franco Perez Diaz
Global VP for Partnerships, AIESEC

Gloria Maria Cavalieri
Student of Economics of Cultural Heritage, the European Youth Parliament introduced her to international governance and human management and has led her to deep commitment towards education, active citizenship and to her involvement in Italian and international politics. She is a Member of the National Board of the European Youth Parliament and the Project Manager of the International Session of Milano 2020 that will gather 300 youngsters debating about topics connected to circular sustainability. Her academic focus is oriented towards the relationship between cultural heritage and the citizenship, targeting the impact of international legislation on this delicate connection.

Hazami Barmada
Hazami is a thought leader, catalyst, social innovator, recognized by Forbes as an “inspirational agent of change.” Hazami has consulted for dozens of leading global organizations including the United Nations, is a Presidential Leadership Scholar, and a Mason Fellow in Public Policy and Management at Harvard University. She leads global workshops and consults on social impact, change management, strategic communications, global governance and leadership development. In 2016, Hazami founded the Humanity Lab Foundation (and Global People’s Summit) in partnership with the United Nations Office For Partnerships, leveraging technology to empower global voices to disrupt the status quo in development. Hazami has an MPA from Harvard University.

Ilija Gudnitz Weber
Ilija is a senior consultant at Dalberg Media where he works on mobilizing action for the SDGs. Ilija has seven years of experience from humanitarian NGO’s and the United Nations with roles in communication, partnerships and innovation. After graduating from Copenhagen Business School in 2012 he worked for Doctors Without Borders. In 2015 he moved to Nairobi, Kenya to work for UNFPA on public-private partnerships and innovation. In 2018 he moved to Copenhagen from New York where he worked to promote women’s rights in the UN General Assembly and as a strategic advisor to the President of the General Assembly.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ixchel Yglesias González Baez</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ixchel Yglesias González Báez. Graduate in social anthropology and investigating topics concerning human trafficking with the objective of sexual exploitation, prostitution and feminicide. Works directly with victims and their families. Provides anthropological expertise with a gender-oriented perspective in legal cases.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>James Bacchus</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Professor Bacchus was a founding judge of the Appellate Body of the WTO. He is a former Member of the United States Congress (FL). He serves on the advisory board to the US chapter of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network, served on the High-Level Advisory Panel to the COP of the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change. Professor Bacchus is author of the books &quot;The Willing World: Shaping and Sharing a Sustainable Global Prosperity&quot; which was named one of the “Best Books of the Year” for 2018 by the Financial Times of London and &quot;Trade and Freedom&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Jeffrey Sachs</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jeffrey is a world-renowned professor of economics, leader in sustainable development, senior UN advisor, bestselling author, and syndicated columnist whose monthly newspaper columns appear in more than 100 countries. He is the co-recipient of the 2015 Blue Planet Prize, the leading global prize for environmental leadership, and has twice been named among Time Magazine’s 100 most influential world leaders.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Jillian Sakovits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jillian Sakovits is a host and reporter for Major League Soccer, Atlanta United on Fox Sports South, and the Big Ten Network. When she's not roaming the sidelines, Jillian is hosting on her passion project &quot;Beyond the Stands.&quot; She is most proud to be the creator and curator of the MLS digital series now in it's third season. &quot;Beyond the Stands&quot; spotlights the philanthropic work of players and supporters across Major League Soccer. The series has spanned the globe, from at home in North America to Honduras, Jordan &amp; Ghana. Jillian has also worked at NHL.com, MLB.com, and News 12 Networks. She is a proud 2010 graduate of State University of New York College at Oneonta and native of Millbrook, New York.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Jose Maria Del Corral
Theologian and teacher José María del Corral is Founder and Global Director of Scholas Occurrentes. Passionate about Education he founded School of Neighbors, a project born to transform education by promoting the integration of students from different faiths and social backgrounds. With the mission of creating and passing over values of encounter to promote peace through education, in 2013, he launched Scholas Occurrentes, a network of schools and educational networks aimed at the integration of students through art, sports and technology operating in 190 countries and counting more than 400,000 schools worldwide. Currently, he is in charge of leading the Foundation’s mission at global level.

Joshua Powell
Joshua Powell is a conservation biologist and National Geographic Explorer, from the UK. In 2017, he founded Rangers Without Borders with Peter Coals, from the University of Oxford. Rangers Without Borders works with wildlife rangers in understudied environments to evaluate their role and capacity to address issues like the poaching of endangered species. Powell is one of the faces of WWF’s #WWFVoices campaign on global biodiversity and in 2019 received the Scientific Exploration Society’s Explorer Award for Inspiration & Scientific Trailblazing.

Julia Guillemot
Julia Guillemot is currently serving as a Project Lead for SDSN Youth. Since 2017, she is working to develop the Global Schools Program, a program dedicated to empowering schools and teachers globally to educate children on the SDGs. In its early stage, the program has already touched thousands globally and counts hundreds of educators and 450 advocates in 85 countries, working locally to integrate the SDGs into school settings. Besides her work for SDSN Youth, Julia is also a graduate student at IÉSEG School of Management, Paris and has previously studied philosophy, ethics and computer science at Harvard, Shanghai Jiao Tong University and Yale.

Kate Roll
Dr Kate Roll, Assistant Professor in Innovation, Development and Purpose at UCL’s Institute for Innovation and Public Purpose, is a political scientist interested in vulnerability, with a particular focus on how people in poverty gain greater social and economic security. Her multi-disciplinary work brings together politics, business ethics, and development studies. Committed to grounded research, she has conducted fieldwork in Timor-Leste, Indonesia, the Philippines, and Kenya. Prior to joining IIPP, Kate taught at the University of Oxford. She holds a BA from Brown University, and an MPhil in International Development Studies and DPhil in Politics from the University of Oxford.
Kayla Colyard
Is the Events and Partnerships Project Lead at the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network - Youth Initiative (SDSN Youth). Based at the Secretariat office of the SDSN in NYC, she also serves as the UN Focal Point. Kayla leads all of SDSN Youth’s speaking engagements and event coordination, including their annual Vatican Youth Symposium hosted in partnership with the Pontifical Academy of Sciences. Her professional interests lie at the intersection of change management, youth empowerment, technology and innovation, quality access to education, corporate social responsibility and storytelling as a tool for progressive change. Kayla holds dual Masters degrees in International Development & Service and Business Administration from the College of Mount Saint Vincent.

Kiran Bir Sethi
After graduating from the National Institute of Design, Ahmedabad (India) in 1989, Kiran successfully ran her own Graphic Design Firm for over a decade. She moved into Education when she founded The Riverside School in Ahmedabad, India in 2001, which is now viewed as a Laboratory to prototype “design processes” that enables “transformative” student learning experiences. In 2009, Kiran launched “Design for Change” which uses a simple 4-step design framework – FIDS (Feel, Imagine, Do, Share) to cultivate the I CAN mind-set in all children. Today DFC is the world's largest movement of change in 67 countries — impacting over 2.2 million children and 65,000 Teachers.

Klevisa Kovaci
Currently a Program Manager of Friendship Ambassadors Foundation, Klevisa is a mission-driven international development professional who is passionate about making a difference through sustainable development. Her experience comprises engaging with global organizations and projects in Eastern Europe, Asia, and North America. These include working in UN Women in Kosovo and the Permanent Mission of Albania to the UN. Her background centers on sustainable development, democratization, youth and gender. Klevisa holds Master’s degrees from Columbia University and Sciences Po Paris in International Affairs and Development. Prior to, she graduated from Fairfield University with a B.A. in Politics and French.

Lorenzo Fioramonti
Minister of Education, University and Research (MIUR). Fioramonti is a political scientist and professor of political economy at the University of Pretoria and director of the Centre for the Study of Governance Innovation (GovInn). He has co-authored and co-edited a total of ten books, including the bestselling Gross Domestic Problem: The Politics Behind the World's Most Powerful Number and How Numbers Rule The World: The Use and Abuse of Statistics in Global Politics.
| Louise Heegaard | Louise Heegaard works with Djaffar Shalchi and the Human Act Foundation to engage the world’s super-rich in supporting the SDGs. Louise has a background in international development and the research/environmental field, particularly in the water and food sectors. In 15+ years, Louise has worked for Stockholm International Water Institute, the International Food Policy Research Institute, the International Foundation for Science and International IDEA. She and began her career in the public education sector in Copenhagen. She has a Masters in Political Science from the University of Copenhagen and a DEUG in Public Administration from Université Paris VIII. |
| Marco Aurelio Sánchez Sorondo | Marco is a Computer Science and Engineering student at the University of Buenos Aires. He studied at San Pablo School from 2013 to 2018. He is currently providing support as a volunteer linear algebra and calculus teacher for university entrants and also leads the information secretary of the PCP party, which pushes for the eradication of misery and injustice in Argentina. He is also investing some time into studying data science models applied to computational neuroscience. He has attended and contributed to organize Python and Data Science conferences in Argentina such as PyData, the educational program from NumFocus, an organization that works towards the development of open source code applied to science. |
| María Torres Bergaz | María is a 21-year-old student of social work and human resources in Spain. As a vice president of Break The Silence, she is leading the institutes and universities area. María is specialized in childhood sexual abuse and trafficking in minors. In addition, she has been publishing articles on these topics on the Jupsin’ digital platform and she is a participant in various challenges and student workshops for the UN Sustainable Development Goals on education, environment, and technology. |
| Mariana Ruenes | Mariana is Founder and President of SINTRATA - a non-for-profit organisation working to combat human trafficking in Mexico - Mariana is a social (change) entrepreneur in the field of human rights, overcoming impunity and bringing justice to victims of sexual and labour exploitation through research, activism and advocacy before national, regional and international bodies. Mariana has contributed to the design and research of projects on socio-economic development and gender equality in Mexico, France and India. She has a BA in Cinema and she holds a Master in Human Rights and Humanitarian Action from Sciences Po, Paris School of International Affairs. |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Role and Contributions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mario Cerutti</td>
<td>In Lavazza SpA since 1986 Mario is Chief Sustainability Officer since 2016 and director of the Lavazza Foundation. Coffee expert and knowledgeable of coffee producing Countries. Represent Lavazza in various bodies such as: World Coffee Research, ISIC-Scientific coffee research Institute, European and Italian coffee Associations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marlou Hermsen</td>
<td>Marlou is the Chief Executive Officer at World Merit, a global platform for talented and collaborative youth. She has graduated in Global Health and is heavily focus of the SDGs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martha Jeffries</td>
<td>Martha Jeffries is a director, producer and writer. She has filmed in 6 continents and her work has screened in over 150 countries. Martha directed and produced two films for the Emmy Award-winning climate change documentary series 'Years Of Living Dangerously'. She is a founding member of 'Ocean Collectiv' and is currently in development on a climate solutions series. Martha is a New Zealander based in NYC for the past decade.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Molly Burhans</td>
<td>Molly A. Burhans combines her passion for the Catholic faith, humanity, and the planet with her abilities and experience in design thinking, graphic art, business development, and scientific research to understand and transform complex systems, manage diverse teams, and communicate ideas and processes through broadly accessible visual media that bring people together. She is dedicated to advancing the mission of the Catholic Church through the use of mapping technology. She is the Founder and Executive Director GoodLands (September 2015–Present). GoodLands provides the information and tools for the Catholic Church to leverage its landholdings to address pressing issues, from environmental destruction to mass human migration.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monika Froehler</td>
<td>Monika Froehler serves as CEO of the Ban Ki-moon Centre for Global Citizens in Vienna. Previously, she worked with former UN SRSG for Sustainable Energy for All Kandeh Yumkella, at the Austrian Foreign Ministry as an advisor and press spokesperson for two Austrian State Secretaries and before that she covered meetings at the UN in Vienna and worked for the Permanent Mission of Austria to the UN in Geneva. As part of the APM Ban Convention Secretariat, she managed a EU Grant for the implementation of the Convention. Froehler is an alumna of the Mediterranean and Vienna Diplomatic Academies.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Mustafa Ozturk

Mustafa Öztürk is a lecturer at Hacettepe University in Ankara, Turkey. He holds a M.Sc. and a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction from Middle East Technical University. He completed a non-degree postgraduate study in Learning, Learning Environments and Educational Systems at University of Turku, Finland. He conducted a postdoctoral research at Teachers College, Columbia University on empowering sustainability competencies in teacher education. With his research initiatives on education for sustainability, he was awarded the Human Development Research Award by Koç University UNESCO Chair. He is currently engaged in designing and implementing Sustainability Training Programs for pre-service and in-service teachers in Turkey.

Nicolás Mariano Del Mastro

Nicolás Del Mastro currently studies Law and is a member of the Fundación Alameda. He carries out his activities within the legislative and political framework at national, provincial and local level. He devotes himself to social militancy and to trade union organizations. He is Member of the Foro Adicciones Rosario y la Pastoral Social de la Arquidiócesis del Rosario as well as of the Instituto para el Desarrollo Humano Integral y Sustentable de la UCA and other organizations of the civil society. He bases his daily and strategic work on the practical implementation of the Laudato Si Encyclical.

Nikhil Seth

On 8 June 2015, Mr. Nikhil Seth was appointed by the United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon as UN Assistant Secretary-General, Executive Director of UNITAR. Before assuming the post of the UNITAR Executive Director, Nikhil Seth was the Director of the Division for Sustainable Development, DESA at the United Nations Secretariat in New York. During his career with the United Nations since 1993, Mr. Seth has served as Special Assistant and Chief of Office to the Under-Secretary-General for Economic and Social Affairs, Chief of the Policy Coordination Branch in the Division for ECOSOC Support and Coordination, as Secretary of the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) and the Second Committee of the General Assembly, and as Director of the DESA Office for ECOSOC Support and Coordination.

Nouzha Alaoui

Secretary General, Mohammed VI Foundation for Environmental Protection

Paty González

Honorary President, Unidos vs Trata
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Role and Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Paul Bottino</td>
<td>Paul is an innovation and entrepreneurship educator with 20 years of experience helping hundreds of student-innovators at every stage of startup development in a diversity of fields, including software, medical devices, global health, blockchain, and data science. He established Harvard’s undergraduate innovation and entrepreneurship programs in 2000 with the founding of the Technology and Entrepreneurship Center at Harvard. He serves as executive director of innovation education and is a member of the faculty of the Harvard Paulson School of Engineering. Paul earned a B.A. in economics and creative writing from Middlebury College and a J.D. from Suffolk University Law School.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peter Wygnanski</td>
<td>Peter is a Seminarist of Theology at the Pontifical Gregorian University. He is a Musician and has graduated in Electronic Engineering.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rogelio Barrios Rosas</td>
<td>SDSN Youth Network Coordinator</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosi Orozco</td>
<td>Rosi Orozco is a Mexican activist fighting perhaps one of the darkest forces on earth: human trafficking and sex slavery. As President of the Comisión Unidos Contra la Trata, she is striving to stop and prevent trafficking in all forms.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rustom Masalawala</td>
<td>Global Philanthropy and Social Impact Investing specialist with Senior management experience in both the public and private sector. Extensive field experience in Sub-Sahara Africa and S.E Asia. Broad cross-sectoral knowledge: Health, Agriculture, Enterprise Development, and Dairy, to name a few. Have worked with some of the leading development organizations, like the Acumen Fund and The Earth Institute at Columbia University. Deeply passionate about connecting with, and supporting, young entrepreneurs in gaining the appropriate financial and management support that will allow their projects to be a success.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Position</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---------------------</td>
<td>-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sabina Ratti</td>
<td>Member of the Sustainable Development Solutions Network Leadership Council (SDSN) and Chair of SDSN Italy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sakshi Bhatia Chopra</td>
<td>Sakshi Bhatia is a passionate social worker and an advocate of women wellbeing. After quitting her corporate career in Banking, she joined RoundGlass Foundation, India as an Associate and has worked with more than 500 young girls from rural schools in Indian villages, helping them deal with menstrual hygiene and related awareness. She has also helped setup many self help groups of women, where they get together and make sanitary napkins for livelihood. A connoisseur of health and hygiene, Sakshi finds her mission to help as many young girls in rural Indian villages to be more aware about menstruation related hygiene. She likes to travel, connect with different cultures and help people discover their true potential through collaboration.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sam Quigley</td>
<td>Sam Quigley is the Communications Director for the Patriotic Millionaires, a group of high net worth individuals united in their concern about the destabilizing concentration of wealth and power in America. As part of his work promoting policies based on principles of progressive taxation, liveable wages, and political equality, Sam has produced content published in The Guardian, The New York Times, Bloomberg, Fox Business, USA Today, Newsweek, CNBC, NBC, and Time Magazine, among others. Sam holds a BA in Political Science and Near Eastern Languages and Cultures from Indiana University.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarsha Crawley</td>
<td>Sarsha Crawley is in her final year of a Bachelor Commerce and Bachelor of Arts at Monash University with majors in Economics, International Studies and Psychology. She is currently the Sustainable Development Goal Coordinator at Monash University and facilitates student connection and collaboration surrounding the Goals. She completed a study abroad year at the University of Warwick and has presented research at the British Conference of Undergraduate Research and the International Conference on Sustainable Development. Sarsha is passionate about interdisciplinary research, with a keen interest in academic intersections that contribute to sustainable development.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seoyoung Chang</td>
<td>Ambassador Dho’s Youth Rep</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharihan Al-Mashary</td>
<td>Siamak Sam Loni</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>------------------------</td>
<td>---------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IoH, HFTP, WorldSkills-UAE, Emaar Hospitality Group and Emirates Academy of Hospitality Management – Innovation &amp; Sustainability Project Manager. Sharihan’s commitment in her country, the UAE, is prevalent in quality of tertiary education, gender equality &amp; labour rights. She is on the Steering Committee for Emaar-Dubai Expo2020, Sustainability &amp; Woman in Leadership for Emaar Hospitality Group. Founding member of the Global Sustainability Network (GSN), devoted to achieving SDGs (Goal 8 &amp; 8.7) – working with UAE-UK government on border control, targeting, and UAE employee-labour HR practices &amp; polices within the hospitality industry. Member of WorldSkills UAE, promoting vocational education, technical skills and youth employment.</td>
<td>Sam is a young global leader working in sustainable development, climate change, and human rights. He is based at the Secretariat of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network in NYC - an initiative launched by UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon to mobilize global expertise around the implementation of the 2030 Agenda. Sam founded and currently leads SDSN Youth, an organization which empowers youth globally to create sustainable development solutions. Sam is also the Partnerships Manager of SDSN’s Financing for Sustainable Development initiative – where he helps coordinate efforts to mobilize global funding and resources to close the SDG financing gap in low-income-developing-countries.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Tatum Quon</th>
<th>Thomas Preiss</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tatum Quon is a student at Redwood High School in California. She will be focusing on the UN Sustainability Development Goal 8.7. In her community, Tatum will be actively creating an outreach program for local high schools to educate and prevent sex trafficking amongst the student population.</td>
<td>Thomas Preiss is a social change strategist and entrepreneur. His avid passion for social innovation and purpose-driven business has led him to create and develop social ventures across multiple industries, ranging from e-commerce to e-mobility. In his current role as Co-Founder and COO of ‘Common Goal’, a philanthropy movement that sees professional football players, managers, fans and businesses pledging a minimum of 1% of their earnings to NGOs using the power of football to advance the UN Global Goals, he is working to build a bridge between the multi-billion dollar football business and football as a tool for social transformation. Thomas holds an M.A. in International Economics from Georg-August-University Göttingen (Germany), with a year abroad at University of California, Los Angeles (United States).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Victoria Azizova

Victoria Azizova is apart of the operations team as a Project Officer for SDSN-Youth. She comes from a background in operations and analytics with experience from corporations, such as Henkel and Starbucks. In addition, Victoria was born and raised in San Francisco and moved to Austria to teach English. While in Austria, Victoria travelled throughout Europe after completing her BA in International Management, then went on to obtain her MBA in International Business. Furthermore, Victoria is enthusiastic and passionate about synergistically creating relationships with corporations to focus on the SGD’s and sustainability.

Viviana Castillo Guzman

Unidos vs Trata

Xan Northcott

Xan Northcott is an Environment and Sustainability Advisor to Founders Factory, an accelerator for innovative tech startups, currently working to expand their support of tech to help the environment and combat climate change. He is also a youth representative to UNFCCC and a Climate Reality Leader. He graduated in Politics from New York University, Summa Cum Laude, and previously served at UNDP and the Friendship Ambassadors Foundation, a non-profit that supports youth addressing global challenges, where he led their flagship conference, The Youth Assembly, and expanded environmental initiatives. He is 24-years-old from the United Kingdom.

Yi Jun Mock

Yi Jun is Manager of the SDG Students Program. He founded and presides the non-profit Advisory Singapore with the aim of helping young Singaporeans making informed career choices. Moreover, he has worked for Singapore’s Ministry of Foreign Affairs. At the UN SDSN – Youth he has worked as Networks Project Leader and founded the SDG Students Program.

Young-shim Dho

Ambassador and Chair, ISTO for Peace and Prosperity