

Anglican resources on modern slavery

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby

Archbishop Justin calls for world to wake up to 'modern day slavery'

1 October 2013

Archbishop Justin and Pope Francis back Anglican-Catholic anti-slavery and human trafficking initiative

17 March 2014

Archbishop welcomes draft modern slavery bill

8 April 2014

Archbishop Justin's address to Pope Francis

16 June 2014

Archbishop's statement on the first UN anti-trafficking day

30 July 2014

Archbishop Welby sends message to Anglican anti-slavery meeting

3 November 2014

Archbishop of Canterbury joins world faith leaders in pledge to end slavery

2 December 2014

Archbishop of Canterbury's address to the Global Freedom Network declaration

2 December 2014

Archbishop of Canterbury on hunger in Britain

7 December 2014

International Anglican Family Network (IAFN) and International Anglican Women's Network (IAWN) Joint Newsletter

Church Responses to Human Trafficking

January 2015

Freedom Sunday

Freedom Sunday is a day of worship, prayer and action on human trafficking. On Sunday, 19 October, churches all over the world will join together to raise awareness of the crime of human trafficking and show the world our compassion for the men, women and children who are trafficked and exploited.

The following resources have been designed to enable your Church to take part in the day and to help your Church learn more about how it can tackle this injustice.

- Freedom Sunday Resources for Worship & Action
- Freedom Sunday Church Poster
- Freedom Sunday Powerpoint Images
- Freedom Sunday Images

Anglican Women's Empowerment

Human Trafficking: Freeing Women, Children and Men

March 2011

Mission Theology Advisory Group (MTAG)

Human Trafficking and Modern-Day Slavery

February 2014

Mission and Public Affairs Council

Submission by the Mission and Public Affairs Council to the Joint Committee on the Draft Modern Day Slavery Bill

February 2014